Welcome!

Where is everyone from?

Agenda

1

Housekeeping
rules

2

What's in store for you this weekend

3

A word from our Sponsors

Code of Conduct

Our code of conduct can be found at: rguhack.uk/hello

To sum up:

- Be kind and respectful
- Harassment and abuse are not tolerated

Housekeeping

We're not aware of any fire alarm tests, if there is an alarm, please follow an organiser to the nearest exit.

Bathrooms & water fountains available on Floor 3 - that's this floor.

Housekeeping

Travel Reimbursement, talk to us about this and we can get it sorted

After 9pm, the building is locked. We will have a sign in/sign out system between 9pm and 9am.

We have a first-aider on hand.

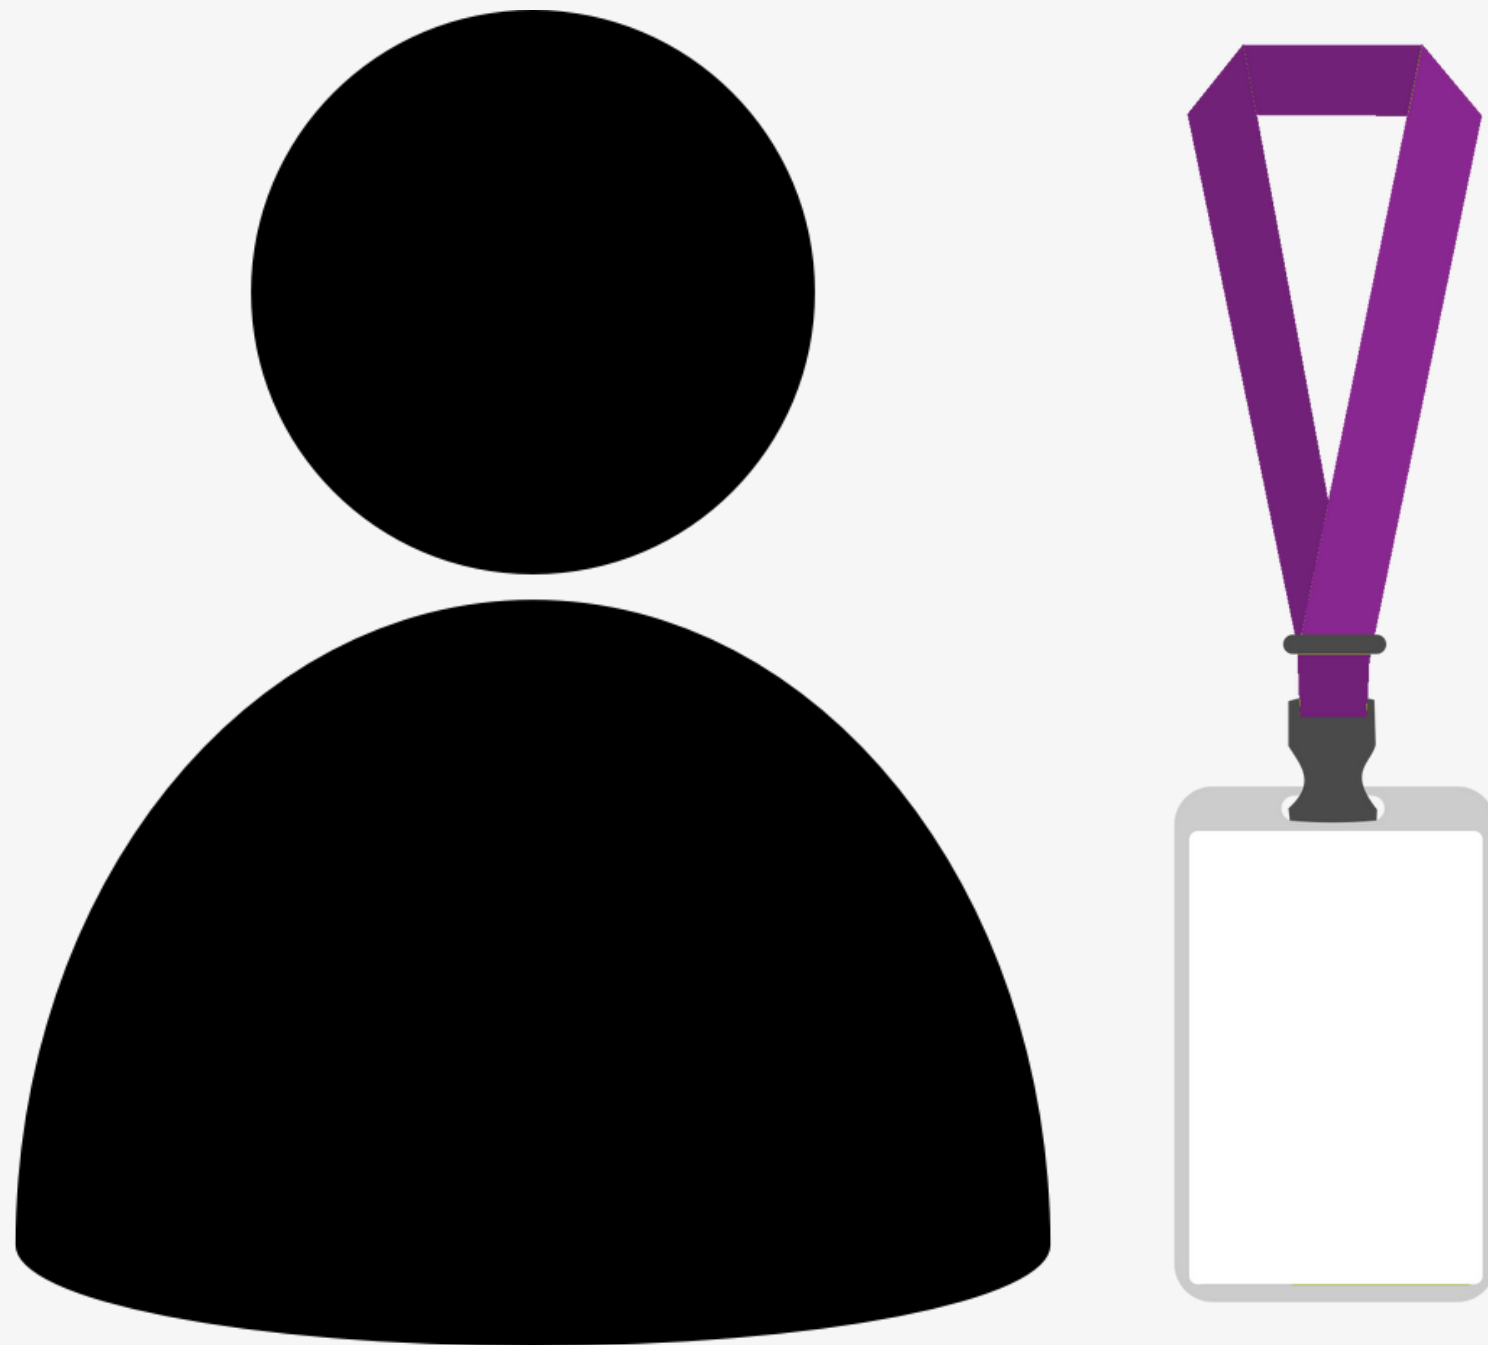

Mentors

We have experienced Mentors available all through the day to help you with hackathon tips and various technologies

Mentors are wearing RGUHack t-shirts so don't be scared to approach anyone and ask for help!

Lanyards

Ensure you've picked up a lanyard on arrival

Please keep your purple RGU Hack lanyard visible during the event so we can easily see attendees!

Hack!

Create something awesome!

1

Form a team of 2-4 members

2

Choose one of our challenges

3

Build something awesome in 24 hours

4

Present your Hack on Sunday afternoon

Meetup

Coming together to meet like-minded folks

Come together with old and new friends

A group of people, likely students or participants in a hackathon, are seated at tables with laptops. The image is overlaid with a red semi-transparent filter. In the background, a sign is visible with the text "Love to code?" and a heart shape containing the word "YES".

Thank you!

Now, time for the team forming.
